Each year the ten students with the highest GPA's in their first year at Daemen are invited to a luncheon to celebrate their excellent academic records. Each student invites a faculty member who they found inspirational in their success. The President and top Academic Affairs leadership congratulate the students and the faculty instrumental in their success.
- 2014-2015 The Student-Faculty Interdisciplinary Research Think Tank Grant, Daemen College, USA ($4000)
The Student-Faculty Interdisciplinary Research Think Tank Grant at Daemen College supports a select number of faculty members to conduct both theoretical and applied research projects with their students. Through the Think Tank, students work with faculty on research projects and write up their research findings, which may be published in an on-line paper series or published periodically in print. The Think Tank promotes a deeper commitment by students to research and to the enhancement of local, national, and global well-being.
- 2014 Sophia Lecture, George Washington University, USA
George Washington University's endowed lectureship that recognizes and publicizes the excellent scholarship of younger women and minority members of the profession. The recipient of the honour gives a public lecture at George Washington University.
- 2014 Center for Philosophy of Science Conference Grant, University of Pittsburgh, USA ($10,000)
"Early Career Scholars Philosophy of Psychiatry Conference: Overcoming Mind-Brain Dualism in 21st Century Medicine" with co-organizers, W. Bechtel, T. Boone, M. Chirimuuta, P. Machamer, E. Machery, K. Schaffner, K. Tabb
- 2012 National Science Foundation Travel Grant, Philosophy of Science Association Meeting, USA ($450)
- 2011 Canadian Institutes of Health Research (CIHR) Café Scientifique Grant, "Neuroscience Meets Psychiatry: The Promise of New Treatments," Canada ($3,000)
CIHR Café Scientifique grant gives the recipient of the award an opportunity to bring together researchers with members of the public to spark a discussion about some of the most interesting - and sometimes contentious - research currently underway in Canada. Café Scientifique democratizes science, taking it out of the domain of the expert and allowing everyone to voice an opinion. It pulls science away from its usual habitats of the classroom and the laboratory and into cafés, bars, restaurants, even theatres, demystifying new developments and opening them up for public debate.
